POTTERTON POISON CASE HAS HEARING

Santa Fe Engineer and His Foster-
Mother Face Trial For Murder
In Kansas.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Arkansas City, May 11.—Few cases in the criminal history of this locality have ever aroused so much general interest in this county as the case of Louis W. Potterton and Mrs.
Emma A. Allen, his foster mother, whose preliminary hearing upon the charge of having poisoned Mrs.
Frances Potterton, the wife of the defendant Potterton, has been set for today before Justice G. H. McIntyre.

In June of last year Louis W. Pot-terton, an engineer on the Santa Fe railroad, married Miss Frances Himmell, an orphan who owned real estate valued at more than $10,000 and whose life was insured for $5,000 in the Union Central life insurance company at Wichita, Kan. Mrs. Potter-ton died at noon on January 1 of this year, after a short illness, which puzzled the doctors. After considerable hesitation the two attending physicians signed a statement that Mrs. Potterton had died of "Addison's Disease." The authorities were not satisfied with this statement and an investigation by the coroner was ordered. An autopsy was made and the physicians, although they found suspicious indications declared themselves unable to say whether death had been caused by poison or not.

Thereupon the authorities decided to send the stomach and other viscera of Mrs. Potterton to the State Chemist for analysis. In due time a report was received stating that the organs contained more than fourteen grains of arsenic and upon this finding the doctors decided that the death of Mrs. Potterton had been caused by poison. After a brief investigation Potterton, the husband, and his foster mother, who has been keeping house for him, were indicted for the murder of Mrs. Potterton and the preliminary hearing was set for today.

OFF FOR A VISIT TO FATHERLAND

Two Hundred German-American Veterans of Franco-Prussian War Will Be Guests of Emperor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 11.—Hundreds of members of the Granger Bund, an association composed of German-Americans who fought for their fatherland in the Franco-Prussian war, assembled at the dock of the Hamburg-American line today and gave their two hundred comrades who sailed on the liner Pennsylvania for a visit to their beloved fatherland, as the honored guests of Emperor William, many rousing cheers as an affectionate send-off. The emperor, who wishes particularly to honor the German veterans from across the sea, has given instructions to that effect and an unusually elaborate program has been prepared for the reception and entertainment of the visiting members of the Granger Bund. During the three months to their visit they will be the guests of the emperor and will be received not only at the Berlin court, but at the courts of every one of the states and principalities of the German empire. Parades and military spectacles, receptions and excursions, a trip on a German warship and a visit to the tomb of Gen. von Moltke are among the features of the program arranged for the entertainment of the honored visitors.

Four "Wand-
trollars," representing the "Wandtrollars" of the Revolutionary war, will accompany the German veterans as a guard of honor and will also be the guests of the Kaiser during their visit.

WAS MURDERED MAN BANKERS' DETECTIVE?

Slain Umbrella Mender, Who Was in This City For Few Days, A
"Cover Up Man?"

Was the mysterious umbrella mender, who was murdered Saturday night or Sunday at Hobbs' camp, a grove near the east limits of Madison, a detective in the employ of the Interstate Detective association and did he, together with the yeggs who were watching, spend some time in this city looking over the field and pass on without attempting any robbery?

According to recent developments, this would seem to be the case.
George D. Bartlett of Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin Bankers' association and well acquainted with the Interstate Detective Association, an organization fostered by bankers in five states of the northwest for protection, is inclined to think so from information in his possession.

Upon returning to Milwaukee on Tuesday, Mr. Bartlett began an investigation of the death. His investigation was aroused by the fact that one of their detectives, known as "Cover-up men," who travels with yeggs, was in the vicinity of Madison, where members of a gang of yeggs were camping.

The general description of the murdered man in the possession of Mr.
Bartlett coincides with that of the detective. His description as to height and weight tallies with that of the detective. To make the identification complete, Mr. Bartlett has written to the headquarters in Milwaukee for further information and also has arranged to secure a detailed description of the murdered man from the Madison authorities.

It is known that three umbrella menders were in this city for several days at the beginning of last week and it is thought that the supposed detective was one of the number and that his companions, after looking over the town, decided to seek other fields. If Mr. Bartlett's theory proves out, the detective's companions must have become suspicious of him and waited their opportunity while at Madison to make away with him.

day of the encampment.

MEMORIALS TO POLISH HEROES

STATUES OF PULASKI AND KO-SIUSZKO UNVEILED

AT WASHINGTON TODAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Nation's Gratitude To Distinguished Foreigners Expressed in Brilliant Pageant And Ceremony

Washington, D. C., May 11.—With military pomp and splendor and amid the enthusiastic demonstrations of a great concourse of people, the handsome bronze statues of Casimir Pulaski and Thaddeus Kosciuszko, the Polish heroes who aided General Washington with their military experience at the hour of greatest peril in the American Revolution, were unveiled in this city today. Soldiers in full uniform presented so many brilliant features of military pageantry and at the same time given occasion for the expression of the debt of gratitude felt by the nation to the distinguished foreigners who came across the Atlantic and out of disintegrated motives did all in their power to aid the American cause. For two hours the crowds that lined Pen-sylvania avenue saw rank on rank of Polish patriots, members of the Polish National Alliance, march in company with American bluejackets and soldiers and at the same time heard the Polish national air played along with "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The President of the United States and members of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, members of Congress and many others prominent in official life, as well as a great gathering of citizens, took part in the double ceremony of the unveiling and dedication of the two memorials.

The military parade was headed by General Tucker H. Hays, acting chief of staff, with Col. Benjamin Alvord, adjutant general as his chief aide.
The first division comprised regular troops from Washington barracks and Troops Myer, Hunt and Washington and the naval contingent of three companies of bluejackets and a battalion of marines of the United States Marine band heading the column. The second division regiments of Infantry the First Separate Battalion, the signal corps, and the First Battery Field Artillery. The third division of the Polish patriotic societies.

The ceremony of unveiling the Pulaski statue occurred in the triangle on Pennsylvania avenue opposite the National Theatre, where the massive figure of the Polish general has been erected. Surrounding the statue were great stands to accommodate the many officials and guests invited to take part in the exercises. After an invocation by Bishop Paul Rhode of Chicago, President Taft addressed the assembly and pronounced a splendid tribute to the valor and military genius of Pulaski who, after fighting for the freedom of Poland against the great invading powers of Russia, Austria and Prussia, offered his services as a volunteer in the American cause.

Following the unveiling of the Pulaski statue the scene of the ceremony was transferred to Lafayette Square where the Kosciuszko monument was displayed to the public gaze for the first time and formally dedicated with imposing ceremonies.
The statues is a gift to the people of the United States by the Polish National Alliance and that organization was in charge of the dedication ceremonies. Secretary of War Dickinson and John Smalski of Chicago delivered the principal orations. In eloquent addresses both speakers paid glowing tribute to the memory of the soldier and patriot, who planned the defences of West Point and later did valiant service in the campaigns in Georgia and the Carolinas.

The statues dedicated today take rank among the most imposing monuments in the national capital. The Pulaski memorial is the work of a Polish-American sculptor of Chicago, Mr. Casimir Zadworny. The work shows Pulaski in his famous uniform of his native country, seated on the back of a moving horse of fine mould and graceful lines. The rider presents a picturesque and martial appearance, with the long military cloak thrown back from his shoulders. The horse and rider stands at the northeast corner of Lafayette Square, two of the other corners of which are adorned by the handsome memorials to Lafayette and Rochambeau, while the fourth corner will be occupied later by a statue of Baron von Steuben.
Gen. Kosciuszko is represented as the hero of two hemispheres. A map of America with the American eagle guarding its liberty is at the front of the pedestal. In the rear the other hemisphere is represented as divided by a rolling smoke, standing for the desolation of European and Asiatic monarchs. To the right a Polish farmer armed with a scythe is protecting a Polish soldier who had fallen in battle. At the left an American soldier is covering the bonds of an American farmer. Above this group stands Kosciuszko, holding a sword in one hand and in the other a map showing the West Point fortifications.

PHRENSY AFFECTS A BIG ELEPHANT

COL. G. W. HALL'S OLD CHARLEY BECOMES TROUBLESOME.

IT MAY BE SPRING FEVER

Animal is One of the Largest in Captivity and is Said to Be A Hundred Years of Age.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Janesville, May 11.—"Old Charley," one of the largest elephants in captivity who has been owned by Col. George Washington Hall, the veteran showman for the past nine years, has a bad attack of phrensy. Spring fever, his attendants call it, and they are all afraid to get near his trunk or within reach of his giant tusks. "Old Charley" is the elephant that the Colonel's daughter, Mabel Hall, known in home life as Mrs. Frank Longbottom, has exhibited for years as one of the greatest performing animals in the circus world. She has been able to do anything with him and the great beast really showed an affection for her. Now he has even turned upon her and recently tossed her nine feet in the air with his big tusks. Fortunately no bones were broken but she was badly shaken up and now no one will go near the big animal except to feed and water him.

"Old Charley" may be a hundred years old or he may be only forty or fifty. His age is uncertain, but judging from the length of his tusks he has passed through many seasons. Originally owned by the Ringling Brothers, he was purchased by Col. Hall some nine years ago when he had a round show of his own, and since he left the active work has been rented to other tented aggregations, season by season. He towers above the other species of his breed and even seems to be growing still. His summers have been spent under the big white tops and his winters at Col. Hall's headquarters near this city. He is worth $3,000 alive and he should die his tusks would be valued at some eight or nine hundred dollars for the ivory they contain.
"Old Charley" first showed signs of unreason when he threw his winter cage taker against a partition wall in his stable in March because he hit him with a shovel. This act led the keeper and he left by the first train. Next Captain Dabo, an Indian elephant man, was brought on from New York. Dabo knew the old fellow and they were apparently friendly again but one day he turned on Dabo and seized him with his big trunk, pressed him against the partition wall and dropped him to the ground evidently in preparation for going by the tusks. Dabo made his escape, between the animal's fore legs, much bruised, but with no bones broken. Then came Arkansas. He also had cared for Charley years ago and the old beast greeted him pleasantly. This was auspicious, but Arkansas kept his eyes open and catching Charley watching for an opening to hit him resigned his place.
"The Colonel's daughter, Mabel" then had to care for the great animal. He was glad to have her with him and showed all signs of affection towards her. It looked so easy that Frank Longbottom, her husband, isolated he took the charge of the animal and relieve his wife and for a time this worked well. Then one day Longbottom was on the old fellow's blind side and he turned to see what he was doing and struck him with his trunk and that ended his career as an animal man and since then he watched his wife handle the great creature at feeding times with awe and trembling.
Finally "Old Charley" turned on Mabel and since then his food and water have been poured to him by seared menagerie men. Just at present he is sick. The medicine that has been given him with a hope of curing him of his phrensy has apparently been too strong and he is docile enough and some who have seen him believe he will die. He stands all day swinging his big head to and fro and showing signs of suffering and a great desire to be down which is a bad sign for an elephant. Meanwhile the Hall circus has begun its spring migration under the management of Frank Longbottom. The old elephant is practically alone in the animal house and this makes him morose. He misses the other animals and misses Mabel! even though he did turn on her. He eats nothing and drinks no water and unless he changes for the better in a day or two it is expected that he will have to be killed or will die a death by self enforced starvation.

OBITUARY.

Bert Koepke.
Bert Koepke, aged twenty years, died very suddenly this morning at 12:30 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koepke in the town of La Prairie. The young man had been ill but one day. He has always been of frail health, and while plowing Saturday contracted the cold which brought about his final illness and death. Besides his aged parents, he leaves five sisters, Ellen, who has been confined to her bed for the past two months; Mrs. F. Frank of Clinton, Wis.; Mrs. W. L. Kopka, of Clinton, Wis.; Mrs. L. Kopka, of Clinton, Wis.; Mrs. T. Hahn of Clinton, and Mrs. L. Kuehn of Clinton. The young man was very well liked and many friends mourn his death. The funeral will be held Saturday at 1:30 from the home.

Charles Cantwell.
The funeral of Charles Cantwell was held at nine o'clock this morning from St. Patrick's church, Rev. Fr. James J. McGinley officiating. The funeral was a large one, many relatives and friends attending and members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of which the deceased was a member, were present in a body. The casket was covered with beautiful floral emblems. John McCarthy, Frank McCarthy, Frank Griffin, Leo Sage, Edward Bler, and Fred Smith were the pallbearers. The remains were placed at rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

SCOTCH HORSE RESPECTS CAR.

A baker living in the west end of Dundee, Scotland, possesses a most intelligent horse, while waiting in front of his master's shop the animal is often called upon to clear the way to allow the tramway cars to pass, and this it does regularly and without the slightest assistance. On hearing the clanging of the car bell the horse immediately crosses over to the other side of the street, and allows the car to pass; then, looking around, as much as to say, "Here!" it again takes up its original position.—Wide World Magazine.

FIED FROM MALARIA.

Apocryphal of W. H. S. Jones' application of his theories of malaria and decedence to Rome, R. T. Hewlett, an Englishman, suggests that malaria has played a part in the distribution of population in England. Parts of Norfolk, he says, were once much more populous than at present. The same is true of the region in Kent about Romney marsh. Both of these regions are infested with anopheles and were at one time extremely malarious. "Hence malaria has been one of the factors causing the depopulation of these localities," asks Mr. Hewlett.

THIS WATCH A BUTTON

Except for Dial It Cannot Be Told From Buttons on Coat.

One of the most novel of the many novel forms of watches is the button watch invented by a New York man. The case of this watch is the size and shape of an ordinary button, such as is worn on a man's coat sleeve, but hollow, and the works are inside. The dial is fastened to the case by a long, strong shank. There can be a pocket in the out of the coat sleeve into which the little timepiece will fit, but in some cases it is made to wear unprotected on the sleeve. Except for the face it would be almost impossible to tell it from the other buttons on the coat. There used to be a novelty watch that was worn in the button hole of the coat lapel, but this one is used as a regular button and is the greater novelty on that account. Girls who heretofore imagined that all the odd watch and jewelry novelties were designed for their benefit will now have to yield the field to the brothers.

OLD-TIME ELECTION TRICKS.

Soldiers have been used to provide artificial majorities in English elections. In 1784, 280 of the guards were sent to vote as householders against Fox in the Westminster election. Upon that occasion the device failed, but it succeeded in an Irish election. The patron of a large Irish borough, finding that there was some uncertainty as to the return of his nominee, marched in a regiment of soldiers from their quarters at Loughrea and had them all elected freemen. Their vote put the victory of his candidate beyond doubt.

GOLDEN RULE DISCIPLINE.

A great nation shook off the old mechanical imperial rule of the ages and secured for a greater nation freedom and election—a freedom in too many cases pregnant with almost total loss of self-restraint and noble personal discipline of the golden rule. It means anything. It means that your freedom should be at harmony and a unit with all brother men. No stupid mechanical rule of one man, but an alert tenderness and smoothness as if the whole nation were one great choir, with no fools or scoundrels to make discord. No easy job, my masters.

FINDING OF FRESH-WATER EEL.

The straits of Messina are channels of immense depth, through which a wild form of whirling eddies have the effect of bringing up from the depths below many marine creatures which are rarely seen except in the deep sea trawls. It was here that the fresh-water eel was first discovered, an incident which threw a blaze of light on the life history of a very mysterious fish.—London Daily Telegraph.

TRUTH'S GREAT POWER.

He who has the truth in his heart need never fear the want of persuasion on his tongue.—Ruskin.

HAVE YOU EVER TRIED A BISSELL

"Bull Bearing" Carpet Sweeper? It is the most complete and perfect, in mechanical detail, of any hand propelled sweeper on the market.
Sweeping is no longer dreaded by the woman possessing a Bissell sweeper, as it not only eliminates the drudgery of sweeping, but it brightens and preserves the carpets, as well as doing away with the dust and germ which arise when using an ordinary broom.
It has all the latest improvements—"Cyclo" Bull Bearings, Reversible Ball Bearings, Dust Proof Axle Tubes, Anti-Twisters, Furniture Protection Holders, Pressed Steel Wheels and Metal Perforated Hauls.
The prices are: $2.50, $2.75, $3.00, $3.25 and $3.50.
Don't take a substitute.
Let us show you the qualities of a "Bissell."

Beautiful Spanish Dancer Gives Praise to Pe-ru-na.

NERVOUS prostration is usually the result of a vacation which requires a continual strain on the nervous system.
In such cases it would be wise if a change of vocation could be made. But this is not always possible and a good tonic becomes a necessity.
Peruna is a tonic that invigorates without producing a drug habit.

Peruna is not a beverage nor a bitter, but an honest, straightforward tonic that increases the appetite and encourages digestion.
There is a great demand for tonics during the depressing heat of summer, and especially in countries where hot weather is very prevalent.
Such a demand is exactly met by Peruna.

Miss Pilar Monterde Praises Peruna as a Tonic.
A letter sent to the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., from the popular Spanish dancer, Miss Pilar Monterde, is as follows:

Teatro Principal, City of Mexico, Nov. 3, 1905.
The Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.
Gentlemen: Having used your justly celebrated remedy, "La Peruna," for some time, I have the pleasure of informing you that I consider it the best tonic I have ever used.
It is a wonderful fortifier of the nerves after exhaustion and it increases the vitality of the whole body, and in my own case has produced the most complete and permanent restoration. It is also pleasant to the taste.
I do not hesitate, therefore, to recommend this remedy to all women as the best and most pleasant tonic that they can possibly take.
Yours very truly,
(Miss) P. Monterde.

MAY REFEREE JULY 4TH FIGHT—CHARLIE WHITE.

San Francisco, Cal.—After the half-hour wrangle at Johnson's camp in an attempt to select a referee, the general opinion prevailed that an even man would be eventually chosen. Of course this will mean Charlie White. The final decision will be made on May 16.

After the elimination of a few undesirable, the controversy narrowed down to Eddie Grahey and Jack Welch of San Francisco and Eddie Smith of Oakland, Johnson insisting on one of the two former men and Sam Berger holding out for Smith.

Blessed Illusions.
 Thank heaven that a little illusion is left to us, to enable us to be useful and agreeable—that we don't know exactly what our friends think of us—that the world is not made of looking glass, to show us just the figure we are making, and just what is going on behind our backs! By the help of dear friendly illusion, we are able to dream that we are charming—and our faces wear a becoming air of self-possession; we are able to dream that other men admire our talents—and our benignity is undisturbed; we are able to dream that we are doing much good—and we do a little.—George Eliot.

Lincoln Wigwag Tablet Unveiled.
 Chicago, May 11.—A bronze tablet placed by the Chicago chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on the site of the old "Wigwag" where Abraham Lincoln was nominated for president 50 years ago, was unveiled this afternoon. The exercises took place in the Fine Arts music hall, addresses being made by Governor Deneen, Mayor Russell, Bishop J. W. Hamillon of Boston, Mrs. La Verne Noyes and others. Miss Frances Deneen, the daughter of the governor, unveiled the tablet.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"AND THE strangest part of it all," said the mother whose daughter had wandered very, very near to the great precipice of ruin and disgrace, "was that Alice was such a quiet, studious girl, and a girl that I always thought didn't care anything about men."

I have heard other mothers say that or something similar such as,

"I don't believe there is a girl in this city who does not care anything about the opposite sex."

There are—thank goodness—a good many girls, and I think a good many more girls than there used to be, who have common sense on the subject.

There are girls who can talk about something other than what H.E. said at the dance, and what a nice time they had at the theatre with H.M. and how cute H.E. looks with his hair parted in the middle, and how amusing a red tie he is to H.M.

There are girls who can have a perfectly good time without masculine assistance, who can heartily enjoy a lark with members of their own sex.

There are girls who decidedly prefer superior females to inferior masculine society, and who have the common sense to realize that a life of cheerful, useful spinsterhood is infinitely better than to be Mrs. with any but the right man for Mr.

And there are also girls who adopt a pose of complete indifference and absence of interest in the masculine sex to cover a lack of success with the same.

But girls who don't care anything about any men—well, I guess you'll have to go where the white crow nests and the sun rises in the West to find them.

So don't be deceived, mothers, if your Ethel or Jane or Alice does act as if she cared more for her Latin lexicon or her music lesson than the best looking young man that ever carried the plaid over the goal line.

Don't be fooled if your Emma Jane does appear to prefer a quiet evening with her books to the society of the handsomest young eligible in town.

Don't be put off your guard that way, and think as that mother, who was almost too late, thought, that your supervision and guidance, isn't at all needed in that direction.

Underneath that indifferent exterior you may be sure, though it may even be as unknown to her as to you, sleeps the human, ordinary, little girl who does "care for men."

And it may be, too, that what you take for indifference is really repression, and the personality that you think so weakly minded, is, really, just as much overworked.

It may be that your quiet little girl who doesn't appear to care for men really needs your guidance and attention very much more than that other daughter who has talked of and flirted with masculinity ever since you began to let her frolic down below her knees.

Who knows?

MILLIONAIRE LED TO ALTAR BY LOVE IN RAILWAY SHOP—MISS MARION ELIZABETH WILMOROTH.

Chicago, Ill.—A romance, having its inception in the machine shops at Brimley, when William Holscher, Jr., son of a wealthy Dutch banker of Amsterdam, met Miss Marion Elizabeth Wilmeroth, beautiful and the heiress to millions, came to light last week with the announcement of their coming marriage by the bridegroom for he is a bachelor dinner given by him at the La Salle hotel. The wedding is to be celebrated in Chicago in October.

Both young Holscher and Miss Wilmeroth are heirs to many millions. He is a son of Edward Holscher, head of the Holscher banking firm of Amsterdam, Holland, and holder of securities in American railroads valued at many millions. Miss Wilmeroth is a daughter of Charles W. Wilmeroth, a retired capitalist of Portland, Ore., and worth several millions in her own right.

The romance had its inception when young Holscher was sent to America several years ago to learn railroading with Stuyvesant Fish, Jr. The young millionaire went to work as a laborer in the Illinois Central railroad shops at Brimley. Despite the fact that his mother, now deceased, was a woman of noble birth, born Lady Cecilia Henckels, daughter of West Heath, Ireland, the young man associated with the workmen of the machine shops on equal plane, sharing their labors and living in comparative poverty in a little hotel in the railroad town.

One day Miss Wilmeroth was being taken through the big shops with a party of friends. At a forge the workman-millionaire was welding iron. Miss Wilmeroth paused in admiration of the athletic figure. Holscher also saw her, and between them there passed one look. Young Holscher didn't forget.

In a short time he was "promoted" to the vice president's office. "Then he sought an introduction, he finished his work in the shops shortly afterwards, engaged in a brokerage business for himself at 117 Adams street, Chicago, and went to live at the home

Miss Gushy—Do you like the Seven Seas? Mr. Hardpan—Er—don't know. We had only the three K's when I went to school.

COOKING HINTS

CREAMED HADDOCK. Required—A fresh haddock, in squares butter, pepper, salt, lemon, browned breadcrumbs, a little good white sauce.

Order the haddock filleted, well grease a baking-dish with butter or dripping, lay the fish in, squeeze the juice of half a lemon over, and season with pepper and salt, cover with greased white paper, and bake for about ten minutes. Put the fish upon a hot dish, stir sufficient made white sauce into the pan it was cooked in, and boil it up again; pour over the fish, scatter over the browned breadcrumbs, garnish with parsley and lemon.

DAINTY PUDDING

Beat the yolks and whites of five eggs separately and add to the yolks two tablespoons of powdered sugar, three tablespoons of flour and the grated rind of one lemon. Whip one-half pint of cream until stiff and add with the whites of the eggs to the other ingredients. Put in small pans and bake in a hot oven for one-half hour. When done pile like a layer cake, putting a different kind of preserve between each layer. Serve with a garnish of whipped cream.

STUFFED POTATOES

Take the desired number of large, well-shaped potatoes. Cut a slice from one end of each potato; reserve the slices. Scoop out the inside of the potato, leaving a wall one-quarter of an inch in thickness. Fill this cavity with some minced chicken, turkey, veal or lamb, moistened with a little cream or brown sauce. If a little of the chicken or rabbit sauce is left over it may be used. This mixture must be highly seasoned. After stuffing the potatoes replace the slices cut from the ends, fasten it in place with toothpicks, return to oven and reheat potatoes. Remove the toothpicks and serve potatoes in a folded napkin. An egg is sometimes dropped into this cavity and the cover fastened securely on and the potato placed in the oven until the egg is hatched. Before serving, remove cover, sprinkle egg with salt and pepper and a dot of butter. This dish is sometimes called "Eggs en Surprise."

ORANGE AND MINT SALAD

Peel oranges and cut them with thin, sharp knife each side of the membrane that separates the sections, leaving the fibrous material out entirely. Cut the sections in several pieces. Add one teaspoonful of chopped mint (sparingly). Pour over all equal quantities of lemon juice, water and sugar, stirred together till the latter is dissolved.

Preparations

If a great change is to be made in human affairs the minds of men will be fitted to it; the general opinions and feeling will draw that way. Every fear and hope will forward it; and they who persist in opposing this mighty current will appear rather to resist the decrees of Providence itself than the mere designs of men. They will not be so much resolute and firm as perverse and obstinate.—Burke.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLAN
Food Specialist.

SWEETS FOR CHILDREN

The desire for sweets, common to all children, is to be taken as a natural indication for that element in the food. Sugar is conspicuous in milk, the ideal food. The natural source of sugar after the milk stage, is fruit. Cane sugar differs materially from fruit sugar, and cannot be substituted for it without serious injury. Upon this all authorities agree. Candy made from cane sugar and glucose should not be allowed to children. The sugar fruits—prunes, dates, figs, apples, raisins—should be made to supply the larger per cent. of the ordinary ration. And fruit is best eaten alone. It digests much more quickly than nuts or cereals and most vegetables, and if eaten with them is liable to fermentation. Fully ripened bananas are a good source of fruit sugar. Honey and maple sugar in small amounts are not objectionable. Beet sugar is not better than cane. Molasses candy is the least injurious and requires most chewing.

LADIES, ATTENTION!!

Several weeks ago we gave you an opportunity through your home dealers to test one of our 50c Toilet Preparations, at the small cost to you of 10c; not because it was not worth more, but because we wanted you to know for yourself, the QUALITY of our TOILET PREPARATIONS. YOU KNOW that we would not have dared to have made this offer if our Toilet Preparations were not the ACME of PERFECTION. You were pleased with the results; you could not have been otherwise.

We Want You to Know More About Our Other Preparations

If your mirror reflects a complexion that is sallow, lifeless or muddy—a skin that is rough, coarse-pored, or marred by wrinkles, fine lines or blemishes, follow our special instructions, JUST ONCE, and you will be delighted with the results.

Cleanse the face and neck thoroughly with the E. BURNHAM CUCUMBER and ELDERFLOWER CREAM. Use a soft cloth, carefully removing any excess cream; then apply a little of the E. BURNHAM KALOS-OZONE MASSAGE CREME, massaging with the balls of the fingers, until the cream disappears. Then apply just a speck of the E. BURNHAM HAM ROUGE, spreading it evenly over the cheeks. Then a dash of powder (if the skin is rough, omit the powder). Be careful to give the neck the same treatment that you do the face. Pass both hands lightly over the entire face and neck, so as to remove any stray particles of powder remaining. The results will be AMAZING. This treatment will protect the complexion from the ill effects of exposure to the sun and the winds. DON'T DELAY this treatment. "Procrastination is the thief of time."

Our booklet, "HOW TO BE BEAUTIFUL," contains a list of our line of Toilet Requisites, and tells what each preparation is for, and how to apply it. Ask your dealer for one.

These preparations are for sale at all first-class dealers, or direct upon receipt of price.
